

Hi, my name is prashamsa and currently i am learning python through projects.

So today is 19 Aug wednesday 2026 and its already 11:30 pm

One of the thing i did today was i gave applitude test for baja technologies no idea what will happen.

I am writing this because in future if i scroll through my project and i will feel nostalgic and also i will no longer be begineer understanding these because i will get involved in job, internships.

And also i am in my fourth year now.

Time flies!!!
